These are the days of preparation;
testing our imaginations,
broadening our horizons,
probing our minds,
and challenging
our understanding.
Today we learn to reason . . .
to seek . . .
and to live.

THE CLASS OF 1965 IS HONORED TO DEDICATE THE FORBIAN TO...

Miss Josephine Stewart Elliott: Behind this yearbook and the yearbooks of many past years lie her guidance—the guidance of a devoted and competent person. She has served this school not only as an excellent teacher, but also as an advisor to many clubs and activities, in some years numbering as many as five or six. Whenever called upon to help in any capacity, she is always willing to donate both her ability and her time. In numerous ways, she is indispensable to the functioning and coordination of the many phases of school life. For these reasons, we want to express our gratitude by dedicating to her the Forbian of 1965. We wish only that this dedication could mean as much to her as her dedication has meant to us.

THE FORBES JOINT SCHOOL BOARD

The school board conducts the financial and administrative business of the combined school district, which includes Quemahoning Township, Hooversville Borough, and Stoystown Borough. They approve school expenditures and school projects which are within established regulations set up by the Department of Public Instruction. It must provide an administration and faculty who are trained as professional educators, hire other employees, and make provisions for school facilities.

President . . . . . Samuel Zimmerman
Vice-President . . . . . Frank Liberty
Secretary . . . Jane Zimmerman (N.M.)
Treasurer . . . . . Richard Bock

Absent—Milton Lohr.

FORBES HIGH SCHOOL

The 1965 Forbian,
published by the senior class of Forbes High School
in Kantner, Pennsylvania, proudly presents
The Faces of Forbes.

The faces of Forbes are the faces of youth. They are thoughtful faces, happy faces, wistful faces. They are the faces of concentration, excitement, exhaustion . . .

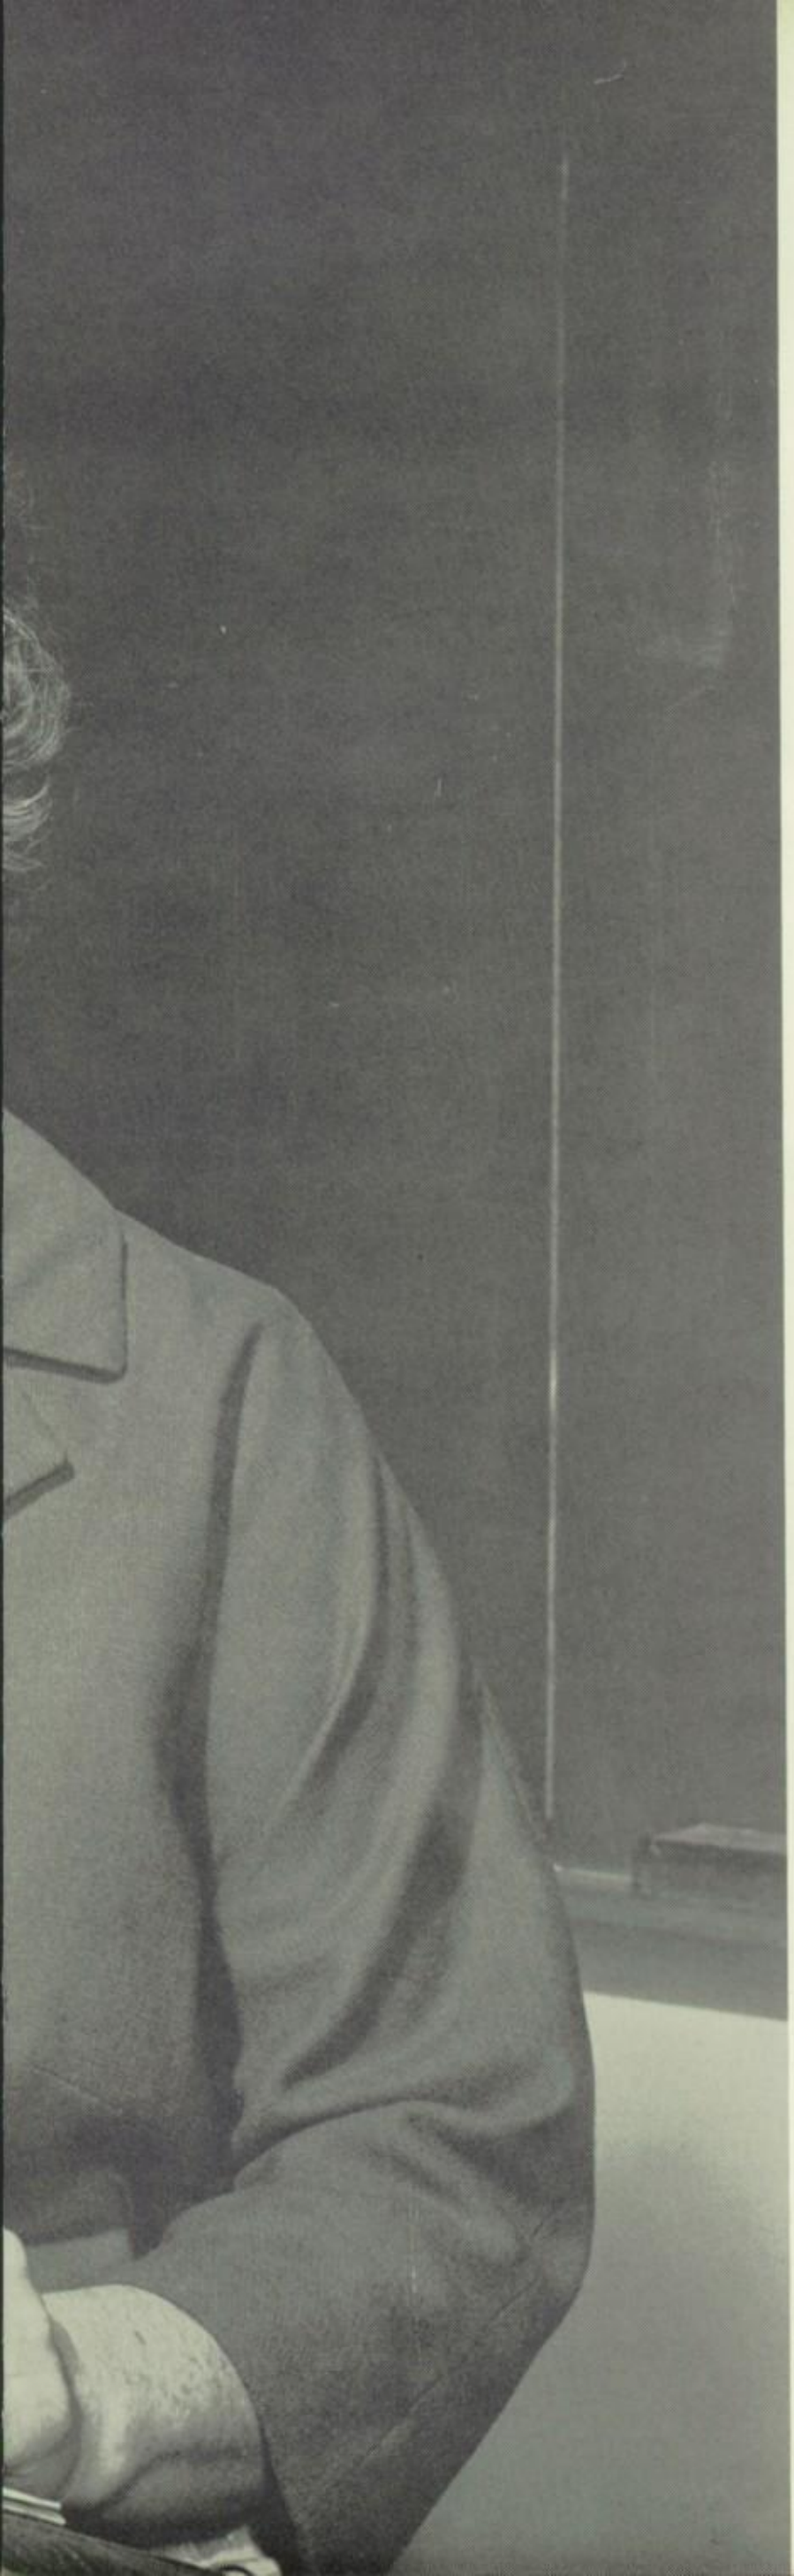
. . . application,

eagerness,

comedy, . . .

. . . loyalty, friendship, and ambition.

These are the faces of Forbes.



Administration

These are the faces of wisdom understanding and experience.
They hold the forces which sculpt young minds.

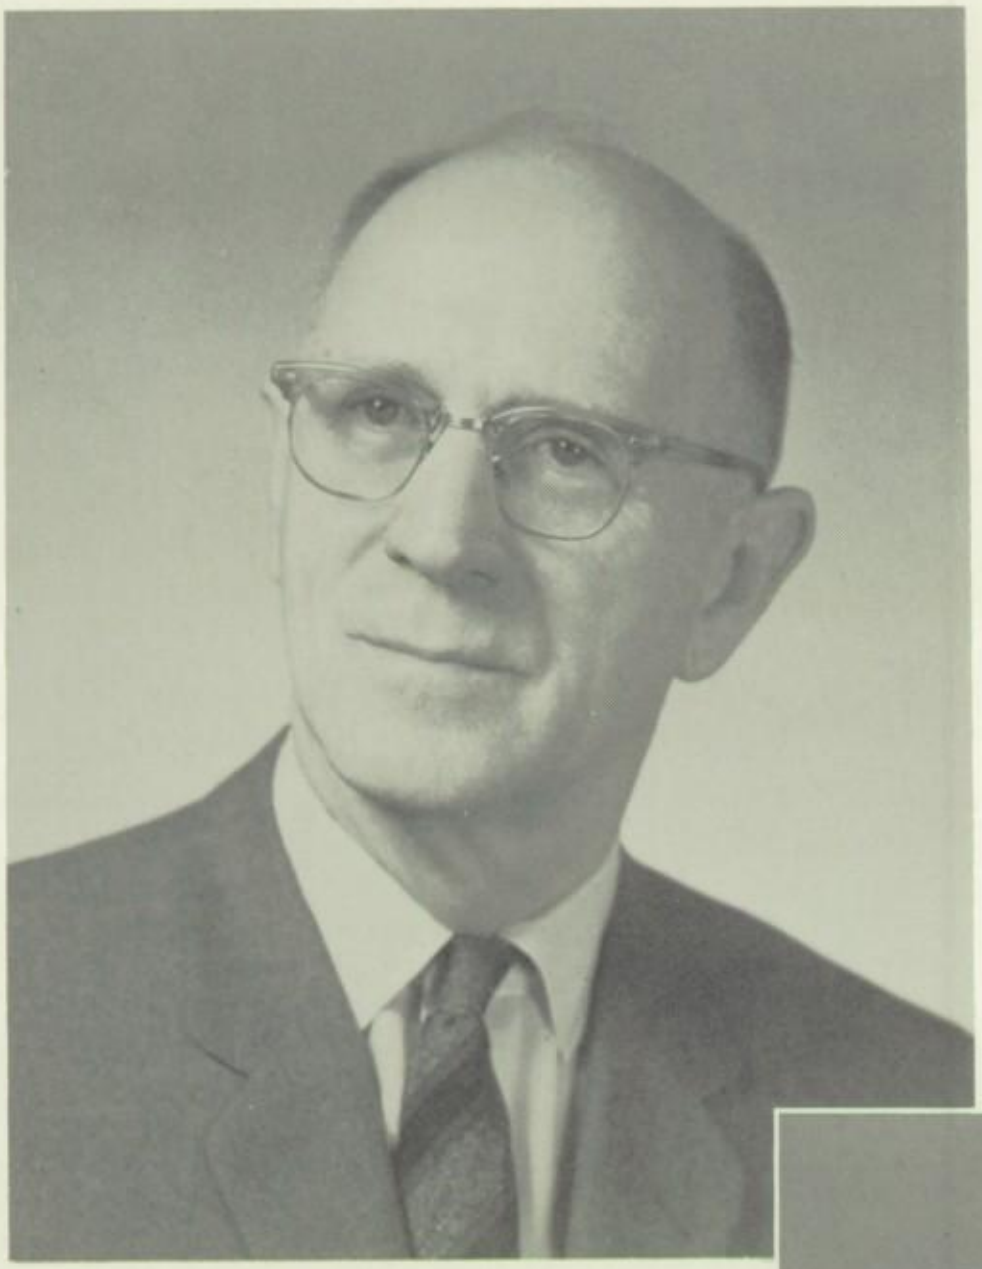
EDUCATORS GUIDE EDUCATIONAL DESTINIES



TO THE CLASS OF 1965

I wish to extend my sincere congratulations to each of you on completing your studies in order to satisfy the requirements for a High School Diploma.

You are now members of a select group. I urge you to unite with other interested parties to promote culture in the United States. In a time when our very way of life is threatened by alien philosophies, toleration of Communism, and a general weakening of respect for law, order, God, and country, you should join others to promote those principles upon which our nation was founded.

My best wishes for a happy and successful future.

David Lichliter,
Supervising Principal

As you, the Class of 1965, are about to graduate from Forbes High School, you leave with us many fond memories of your personalities and accomplishments. I feel that our school will be a better one for your having been a part of it.

With graduation, you will be embarking upon a new kind of life, one that will be less sheltered and one for which you will have to assume most of the responsibility. Whether you continue your education or enter the labor market, all of you will be wanting two things out of life: success and happiness. Your ideas of being successful and happy will be different. You must remember, however, that the common denominator to all success and happiness is the ability to get along with other people. I hope that each of you will learn to so live with others that you will achieve the desires of your life.

Nellie Sank,
Principal

PORTRAYING IDIOSYNCRASIES

"What bell? I don't hear any bell!"

KENNETH J. ADAMS

Mr. Adams, who teaches biology, chemistry, physics, and physical science, is a graduate of Shippensburg State College. He is one of the persecuted (or is it persecuting) senior class advisors and he is also in charge of the stage crew. He has three children — Keith, Kevin, and Kathleen—and lives in Windber. He enjoys sports and reading. What he will miss about the seniors? "Friendly (?) discussions in class and at class meetings, and watching them in lab."

D. LARRY BARNHART

A resident of Stoystown, Mr. Barnhart teaches health and risks his life daily as safety education instructor. He is an advisor of the Safety Patrol and the eleventh grade. In his spare time, he enojys sports, antiques, and coin collecting. Mr. Barnhart, who graduated from Lock Haven State College, has two daughters and a son.

"A diller, a dollar . . ."

"That's the wrong line."

WALLACE R. BERKEBILE

The geography, civics, and Pennsylvania history teacher is Mr. Berkebile, who is also the junior high basketball coach, the faculty manager for basketball, and a freshman class advisor. He and his wife and two sons, Kenneth and David, reside near Kantner. Mr. Berkebile, another sports enthusiast, (especially hunting and golf), graduated from Indiana State College.

OUR FACULTY—EXTRACURRICULAR

PAULINE DAVIS

Mrs. Davis is another graduate of Indiana State College. She teaches vocal music and also advises the Buggs, the Top Twenty, The Forbette groups, and all choruses. Mrs. Davis, who enjoys playing the organ and swimming, lives in Somerset with her husband and three children; Linda, a sophomore at the University of Maryland, Sienna, and Jeffrey.

"We have to learn this by Christmas."

"Let's see your money."

JACK DICKEY

Mr. Dickey, who will try anything to get specimens for his coin collection, has other pastimes, including baseball, basketball, and golf. He teaches general science, and is the baseball and basketball coach, the faculty manager for football and baseball, and an eighth grade class advisor. He spends quite a bit of time keeping people in their proper places in the lunch line, too! He graduated from Juniata College, and now lives in Stoystown with his wife and two daughters, Cathy and Jill.

NINA G. HORNE

Our art teacher, Mrs. Horne, graduated from Edinboro State College, and is now living in Johnstown. Mrs. Horne is one of the busiest teachers at the high school because she is responsible for all the posters, program covers, and bulletin boards for the many activities and special programs. Among her many hobbies are sewing, crafts, flowers, and gardening. She has a son, Barry, who is attending Indiana State College, and a daughter, Penny.

"I think green and pink and yellow would be pretty today."

OUT OF THE CLASSROOM

"I wonder if I have egg on my face?"

LARRY HUTZELL

A graduate of California State College, Mr. Hutzell, who teaches special education, is new at Forbes this year. He is the assistant football coach. In his spare time, Mr. Hutzell enjoys hunting and sports. We discovered that Mr. Hutzell also enjoys sleeping on the way to school in the morning!

CHARLES W. LAWSON

Mr. Lawson, B. A. and M. A., University of Pittsburgh, teaches Problems of Democracy and economics, world culture, and is the guidance counsellor. He is an adviser of the sophomore class and the senior high student council. His hobbies include reading, travel, photography, which he often uses to enliven class periods. Mr. Lawson resides in Johnstown.

Bottoms Up!

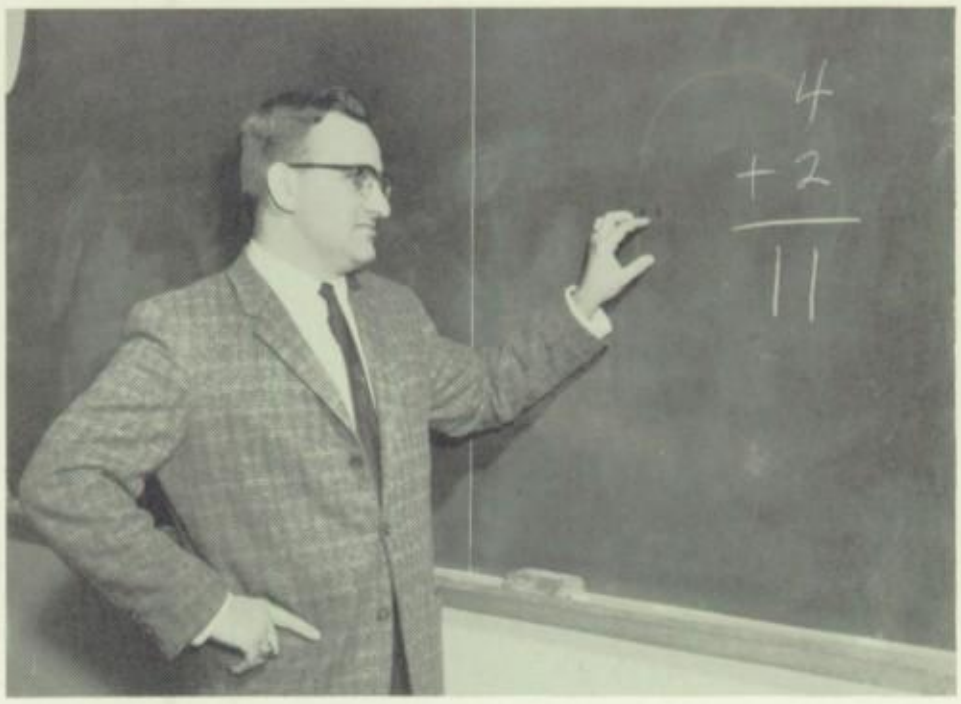
ESTELLA LEAF

Another Johnstown resident, Mrs. Leaf teaches English and is our librarian. She graduated from Indiana State College, and enjoys reading and playing the organ. Mrs. Leaf has a son, Ronald, a pharmacist in Cumberland, Maryland, and a daughter, Vivian, now Mrs. Albert Benshoff of Johnstown.

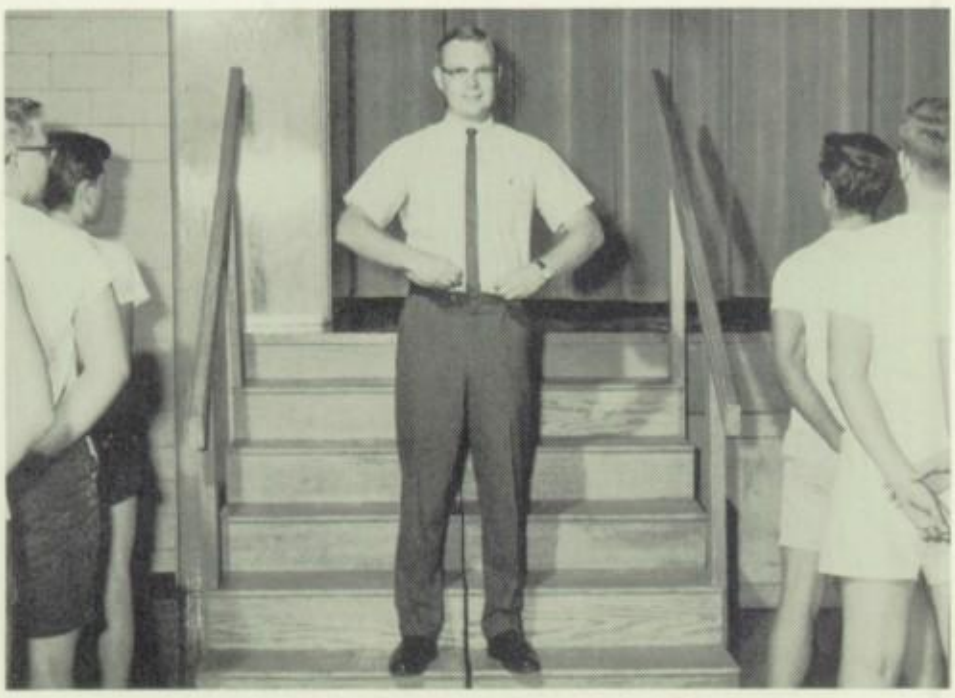
WHAT GOES ON HERE!

JACK D. LOHR

Mr. Lohr, who teaches junior high math and advises the seventh grade, lives in Hooversville with his wife and two sons. He is a graduate of LaSalle College in Philadelphia. One of his favorite pastimes is hunting. "Yeah ya do!"



"What's wrong with that?"



"Be kind to your web-footed friends . . ."

DAVID F. MAIZE

Mr. Maize is our new health and physical education teacher, football coach, assistant basketball coach, and freshman advisor. Among his hobbies are hunting, fishing, coin collecting, and sports (our faculty seems to contain quite a few athletic numismatists). Mr. Maize, who is from Somerset, graduated from the Pennsylvania State University.

JANE METZGAR

Mrs. Metzgar, our school nurse, lives near Stoystown. She advises the Senior and Junior Future Nurses Clubs. "Nurse Jane" can most often be seen flying up and down the hall and in and out of doors. When things aren't lively enough, she usually manages to start something new.

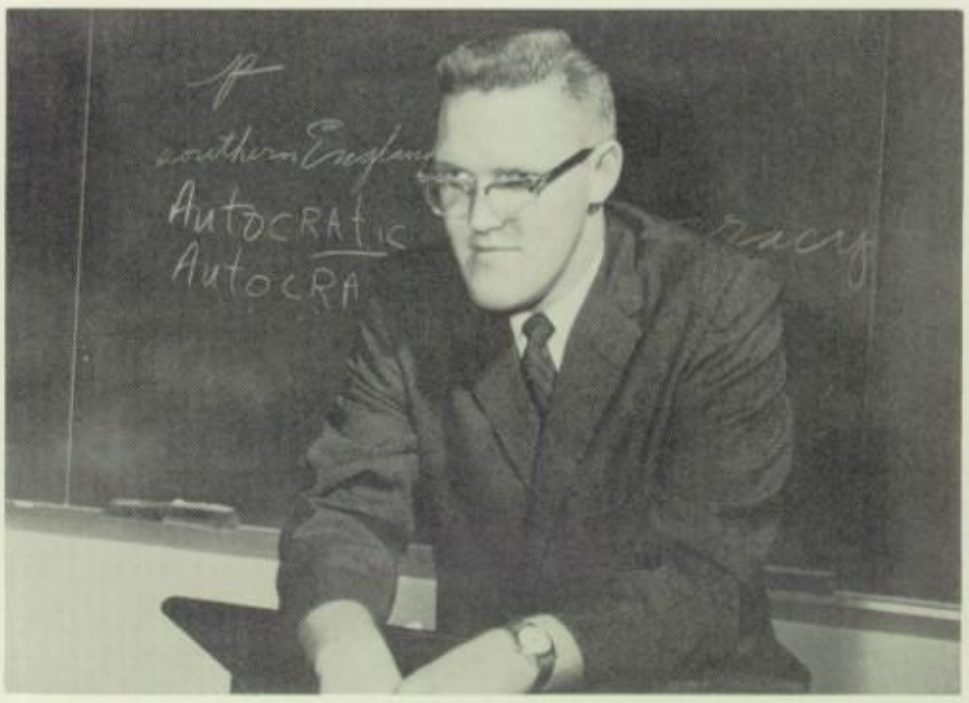
"But I can't give you aspirin."

REMEMBER THE DAY . . .

"If we don't feed him, maybe he'll go away."

STANLEY MISH

Our band director is Mr. Mish, of Johnstown, a graduate of Indiana State College. He makes up for his size by being the biggest little ham around. Mr. Mish, who teaches elementary and general music, is the director of the junior band, senior band, swing band, and elementary chorus. He has two children, both sons.



"Most indubitably."

LEONARD C. NAYLOR

Mr. Naylor, who lives in Windber, graduated from St. Francis College. He teaches United States History and is an eighth grade class advisor. He enjoys collecting stamps and coins.

"Does he or doesn't he?"

JAMES L. O'DONNELL

One of the new teachers this year is Mr. O'Donnell, who is the business manager of the yearbook and a senior class advisor. He teaches business math, office practice, record-keeping, general business training, and book-keeping. Mr. O'Donnell graduated from Indiana State College, and now lives near Rockwood. He has a son, Douglas, and a daughter, Elaine.

INDIVIDUALITY IN PERSONALITY

PHOEBE REIGHARD

Miss Reighard is the advisor of the Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders, the girls' basketball team, and maybe we should include the cafeteria. She teaches health and physical education, and in her spare time likes sports, eating, and talking to (and teasing!) people. Miss Reighard, who lives in Johnstown, is a graduate of Slippery Rock State College.

"Any food?"

"Shhhh!"

BETTY SHANNON

Mrs. Shannon is the short, quiet teacher who doesn't scream—she stares you down. A resident of Stoystown, she has four sons and a daughter. Her favorite pastimes are reading and music, which she supplements with her school groups, Spanish Club, FTA, and the sophomore class. Mrs. Shannon, who graduated from Indiana State College, teaches English and Spanish I and II, and also tutors a small group in French.

PENELOPE A. STAHL

Another new teacher, Mrs. Stahl, graduated from West Virginia University and is now living in Stoystown. Among her hobbies are sports and the study of American Literature, history, and music. She teaches English and history, and advises the seventh grade, Radio Club, and the Senior Class Play. What will she miss about the seniors? "Their unfailing promptness for play practice and the seriousness and dedication with which they perform on stage." (The lady doth drip sarcasm!)

"But you can't have English with the seventh graders!"

YOU MAY SEE IT SOMEDAY

Ambush! !

FRANCES W. TRENT

Mrs. Trent teaches English and advocates good posture on the side. She enjoys reading and traveling, but when she travels, she always returns to Somerset. Mrs. Trent, who is an advisor of the sophomore class, graduated from Hood College in Frederick, Maryland. She has two sons; one is a medical doctor in York, Pennsylvania, and the other is attending the University of Pittsburgh.

JOHN A. WINTERS

Mr. Winters, who teaches industrial arts and mechanical drawing, lives near Stoystown. Mr. Winters, a graduate of California State College, has two sons attending West Virginia Wesleyan. Mr. Winters enjoys fishing and is an extremely talented painter.

"And tell 'em Groucho sent you!"

"I think this will last till lunch."

DOROTHY K. WISE

Mrs. Wise, from Johnstown, is an eighth grade class advisor. She teaches reading and English, and among her favorite pastimes are music and art. Mrs. Wise, who graduated from West Chester State College, has two sons.

THE INFORMAL APPROACH

NANCY ZEBRUN

Mrs. Zebrun, another artist, paints and carves (not meat—stone, etc.) in her spare time. We have also seen evidence of her talent as a photographer. A graduate of Indiana State College, Mrs. Zebrun teaches homemaking and advises the Junior and Senior Future Homemakers of America Clubs. She resides near Stoystown.

"I think I'll go home to Mother."

Planning the day's lesson.

THOMAS M. ZIMMERMAN

Mr. Zimmerman, who lives in Stoystown, is the junior class advisor, and the advisor of the Audio-Visual Club and the Junior High Student Council. He teaches Algebra I and II, plane geometry, trigonometry, and senior general math. Mr. Zimmerman, who has three sons and three daughters, enjoys hunting, woodwork, and gardening.

The secretaries are an integral part of the mechanics which aid our school in functioning smoothly. They work with the faculty and administration to prepare the many familiar "little pieces of paper" that are so well known to all of us. They also perform other services that help us daily.

EFFORT AND EFFICIENCY

Mary Lohr, Margaret Boyer, Janet Croyle, Ruth Horner, Velma Dixon

Irene Berkebile, Thomas McDowell, Thomas Strelko, Charles Sanders

Larry Barnhart, Wallace Berkebile, Daniel Weaver,
Thomas Zimmerman, Edward Coleman, Kenneth Adams

PARENTS SUPPORT SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Edna Weible, Thelma Shaver, Hazel Mostoller, Betty Miller

BAND PARENTS

The Band Parents is another very worthwhile organization of the school parents. Without the help and support of the band parents the band members would not receive jackets nor any of the other benefits that come from these untiring aides.

BOOSTER CLUB

The Forbes Booster Club is an active and interested organization composed of parents and friends of the communities. It's purpose is to promote interest in athletic programs and to help keep sports growing at Forbes.

Donald Croyle, Thomas Rice, Stanley Lebda,
Edward Rader, Earl Griffith

Louise Wirbick, Jean Weible, Roy Shaulis, Sarah Miller

P.T.A.

The Parent-Teacher Association is an organization for the purpose of familiarizing the parents with the teachers and the school system. Through this organization many parents can keep up to date on what their children are doing.

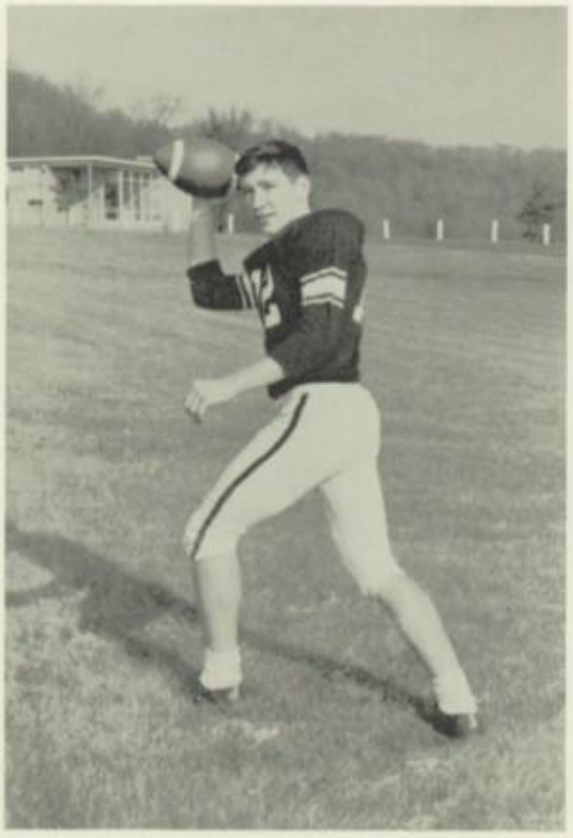
WHO'S WHO



Left: Greg, our class president for the past three years, is also the quarterback who led our football team to its first winning season since 1959. An all around guy, he plays basketball and baseball, too, and manages to cope with his Jimmy Durante fixture at the same time.

Above: Mary, Linda, and Betty Ann are three of the members of the National Honor Society. These three girls are also on the Forbian Staff.

Right: Ron, or Jumbo (which is a more descriptive epithet), is a most illustrious football player. He powered his way to berths on the Tribune-Democrat All-Star Football Team and the Somerset County All-Senior Football Team. He was also selected as the most outstanding senior football player in Somerset County.

Above: Sherrie and Stephanie, the gopher twins, are president and vicepresdient, respectively, of the Future Nurses Club.

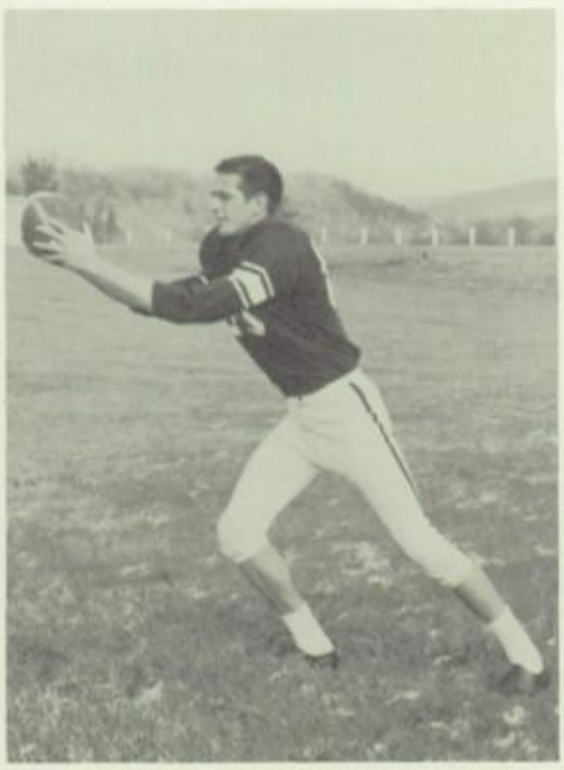
Left: Carol, Sharon, and Dave are members of the Swing Band, which provides music for school programs and for other occasions outside of school. Carol is also a majorette.

Right: Meet Mr. Activity. Besides being an honor student Terry is in practically everything there is to be in. Perhaps we'll remember him most for his role in the class play and as Chief Bugg.

RECOGNITION OF TALENTS

Above: Judy, Red, and Freckles is the captain of the cheerleading squad, class secretary, Homecoming Queen, and Miss Senior. And they're all the same person! Judy also played Helen in the Senior Class Play, Lost Horizon.

Below: Pat, Sally, Jean, Shirley, Sharon, John and Larry are all members of the various choruses. Larry is also a member of the Jetaires. Pat and Jean are members of the F.N.C. and were on the Production Staff for the Class Play.



Above: Dan, who is Mr. Senior, can most often be found with Miss Senior. Besides being one of our best in football, he is equally at home on the basketball court.

Left: Terry and Dana "held the line" throughout the Jet's football season. As members of the Audio-Visual Club, they also show films at assemblies and in classrooms. Terry is also in FTA, and Dana is on the Forbian photography staff.

Left: One of our basketball stars, Bill is also on our baseball team. He is one of the Buggs, one of the Jetaires, and is in Top Twenty.

Right: Kay is the co-captain of the cheerleading squad, and "the little girl with the Big Ideas." She is also the editor of the Forbian, who supervised the entertainment at yearbook meetings, which were usually like three-ring circuses.

Left: Rich, Charlie Manges, Amos, Bob, Ronnie Miller, Chuck, Charlie Sturtz, Ernie, and Ron Potochar are all members of the stage crew, which helps with all assemblies and programs.

Above: Yvonne, Judy, and Deanna are three of Mrs. Horne's faithful silk-screeners. Yvonne and Deanna are also members of the Forbettes and Top Twenty.

Left: Terry and Dave are two of our linemen. Both are members of the stage crew.

Above: Joe, Dan, and Betty Jo were in the class play. Joe played Chang, Dan was Mallinson, and Betty Jo played Miss Brinklow. Phyllis was on the production staff. Dan and Betty Jo are members of the Forbian Business Staff.

Left: Carol, one of our majorettes, is also president of the band. She was selected to be Band Queen for the Christmas parade in Johnstown. Carol is president of F.T.A., a member of the National Honor Society, the Forbettes, and Top Twenty.

INDIVIDUALITY EXPRESSED IN ACTIVITIES

Above: Doris, Alana, and Linda are three of the members of the Future Homemakers of America club at Forbes. Doris and Alana are also members of the band.

Above: Larry, Allen, and Steve are band managers, and they assist Mr. Mish with much of the work that is necessary. Skip is one of our football managers. He is also a member of the stage crew.

Below: Cherie and Gloria are two of the girls on the subscription staff for the Forbian. They took orders and collected payments almost every morning.

Above: Larry, Stan, and George give up many of their study halls to show films in the classrooms for teachers as members of the Audio-Visual Club. On occasion, they also show films in assemblies and at special programs.

Left: Jim, Ric, Betty Ann, Dan, Leonard, Joanne and Bryan are six loyal members of our class who have helped with all class projects.

LOST HORIZON

"And it's genuine?"

This year the senior class was put to the test of some serious acting. They were reluctant in the weeks preceding the play. They doubted their dramatic acting ability, but as the time grew shorter their confidence grew. When the day arrived the cast was ready to present the play.

The story was set in the lamasary of Shangri-La, a hidden pass situated in the mountains of Tibet. A definite Chinese atmosphere prevailed. The stage setting was accented by the colorful oriental costumes and beautiful Chinese tapestries.

"Does my face or do my hands look like I came here in 1810, Mr. Conway?"

Curtain Call

CURTAIN GOING UP

The Senior Class Play was placed under the direction of Mrs. Penelope Stahl this year. Mrs. Stahl had previously directed only one class play, but she displayed all the patience and understanding of a professional director. The seniors attribute the success of their play to the time and efforts put forth by Mrs. Stahl.

Hurried departure.

GONE WITH THE WIND

The Garden Well

The Vibra-Sonics

The Junior Prom of the Class of 1965 was held on Friday evening, May 8, 1964 in the high school gymnasium. The title, "Gone With The Wind" was highlighted by a plantation scene where the thrones of the King and Queen were placed. Other decorations included a summer house in the center of the floor with a wishing well at the side. An arrangement of vines and flowers climbed the side walls. Music was provided by an excellent instrumental group called the Vibra-Sonics. An after prom party was held at The Green Gables in Jennerstown. The prom was well received and many couples participated in a delightful evening.

STRIVING FOR GREATER ACHIEVEMENT

As you finish your first year of senior high school, the road ahead looks long and rocky. Set your goals high, work hard, and before you realize, you will have attained what you have set out to accomplish. Nothing is ever won without a struggle. Your diversified personalities are the tools by which a school and nation grow.

THE 1965 FORBIAN

Before you now is the 1965 Forbian, and the faces of those who helped to make it possible. To them goes much of the credit for what you see, what you read, and what you admire. Behind them are months of planning, work, frustration, and happiness. Every word, every picture, every sixteenth of an inch from cover to cover had to be accounted for, checked, and rechecked. But now you see the product of this effort, and it is for you to decide what it will mean to you.

Perhaps it will mean the most to us, the seniors. In the future, this book will be a reminder of the last year, the memorable year of the Class of 1965. This is our last effort, the result of our imagination and ambitions. For this reason, the 1965 Forbian must be representative of everything that is important to us and reveals our composite personality.

ROW 2: Carol Lease, Stephanie Lebda, Yvonne Drenner, Betty Jo O'Roark, Judy Spangler, Judy Escherich, Cherie Foy, Mary Kaltenbaugh.

Now, the staff of the 1965 Forbian presents this book to the class of 1965 in hopes that they too will regard it with all the sense of achievement that we find in it.

REFLECTING THE FACES OF FORBES

Hiding behind the camera, at your right, is Judy Spangler who seems to have been "caught in the act." She goofed. She's supposed to be catching other people instead of hamming it up herself! Judy is one of the ten members of the staff who devoted themselves to furnishing the yearbook with interesting candids. Embarrassingly for many, they did a great job.

HEADING STUDENT AFFAIRS

Roxanne Carbone, Sheila Peterman, Charles Manges, Donald Jock

Our Senior High Student Council is an essential oragnization. It is the means by which the students express their opinion in the school government. It gives students the opportunity to develop good citizenship, promote good school relations, assists in school management, and promotes the general welfare of the school and the community.

This year, under the direction of their advisor, Mr. Lawson, the Council adopted a new constitution. As provided in the new constitution, the Council officers were elected by the entire senior high school student body.

SERVICE AND SALESMANSHIP

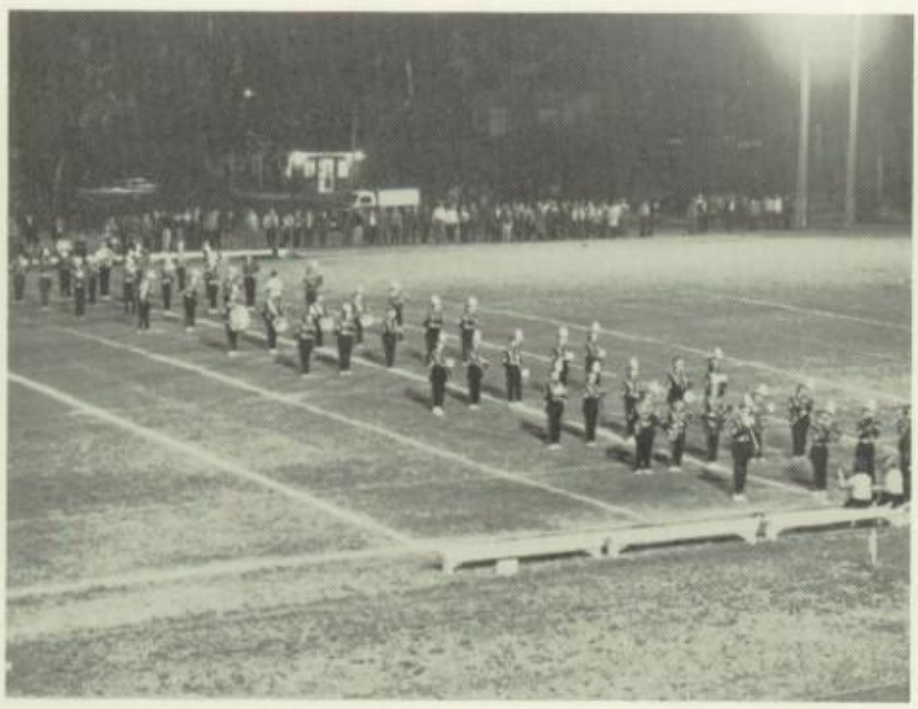
Luke Rosenbaum, Rosemary Mincik,
Joseph Wirbick, Joseph Jurgevich

Equal in importance in student government is the Junior High Student Council.

By conducting their annual magazine sale, the Student Council earns money which it uses to buy useful articles for the school. This year's sale proved to be the most successful since the project was initiated. Through their untiring efforts, the entire school prospers.

Top to Bottom: Joseph Wirbick, Joseph Jurgevich, Luke Rosenbaum, Dan Edmondson, Dnoald Berkebile, Brent Horner, Rosemary Mincek

THE MARCHING JETS



Our band, under the competent direction of Mr. Stanley Mish, has expanded each year. The group provides the students with the opportunity to develop their musical talent and understanding. Playing a musical instrument expertly in a large organization opens up a world of new pleasure and appreciation.

The bands most important responsibility is to ignite school spirit at the football games. The band has also represented our school at many community events. Christmas and Halloween parades, fire company jubilee parades, the Meyersdale Fair, and a political rally are among the many events in which they participated.

SWING BAND

The smiling faces of the swing band members as they perform for school and outside events reflect their enthusiasm and enjoyment because swing band is comprised entirely of voluntary members. They receive no scholastic credit, and must sacrifice many hours of their school and personal time for rehearsals. The enjoyment which they derive for themselves and the pleasure which they bring to their audiences is their only compensation for all their work.

GROUPS CREATE MUSICAL MOODS

The faces of many of our outstanding music students can be seen at many school and social events. The voices of these students are blended and projected into four groups.

"Pronounce your words," "Don't be afraid to sing out" are two well used phrases preached by Mrs. Davis at Top Twenty practice. The Top Twenty prepares numerous numbers for more important events such as baccalaureate and special assemblies.

The Senior Forbettes are comprised of six girls who have worked together during their years at Forbes. They have worked hard, sung well, and enjoyed it immensely.

ROW 2: Carol Whisker, Carol Lease, Yvonne Drenner, Deanna Marshall ROW 1: Stephanie Lebda, Sherrie Coleman.

SUPERLATIVES IN MUSIC

The Seniors have another group of singers "The Jetaires." This group is made up of eight boys. The male octet performs at many school activities.

Daniel West Escherich, Danny Rice, Dana Keith, Larry Green, Ronald Veres, William Berkebile, Joseph Lawrence, Ernest Lohr—Seated: Terry Metzgar.

DISTRICT CHORUS MEMBERS

Yvonne Drenner, Terry Metzgar, Kay Bock

England has the Beatles but Forbes has the Buggs. The Buggs are a very popular quartet at Forbes. They sing a variety of songs, but excel in folk numbers. Their voices are accented by their guitar accompaniment.

The Future Teachers of America strives to help high school students choose the career for which they are best suited by offering opportunities to its members to learn the teaching profession. It builds better citizens and leaders for tomorrow, and provides the fun and fellowship of the members working together to achieve its goals.

A career in nursing is the ambition of many girls at Forbes. The Junior and Senior Future Nurses Club provides for these girls a means by which they can acquaint themselves with the various fields, the many career opportunities, and the satisfactions of nursing.

Through the continuous efforts of their director, Mrs. Metzgar, they have developed into one of the most outstanding and profitable clubs in the school.

"Launching today's youth to better family life, citizenship, and leadership" is the theme of the Future Homemakers of America. During the year, this was emphasized by a series of activities. The members conducted a survey of high school drop-outs and their job opportunities. They heard speeches concerning careers in home economics and in beauty culture. From their treasury they contributed to UNESCO and UNICEF.

At the 1965 Farm Show in Harrisburg, our girls received the Second Place Award out of 26 entries for their demonstration entitled "Fabric Softeners," in which they proved or disproved advertisement claims about various brands.

The Forbes Radio Club presents the communication aspect of our school.

The monthly broadcast over Somerset Radio Station involves many hours of work and preparation. But after all that preparation, someone always comes running in two minutes before the program screaming, "I forgot my article. What am I going to do?"

The purpose of these programs is to provide for high school students the opportunity of working with this important communication medium.

The Stage Crew, Parking Crew, and Audio-Visual Club are an important aspect of our school. Because these organizations present the united face of service only to the school, they sponsor no parties or money-making events. Their services mean that the many varied programs can be presented efficiently throughout the year.

The Stage Crew, under the direction of Mr. Adams, provides the proper lighting on stage and in the auditorium and cares for the stage properties.

By braving the elements, the Parking Crew and their advisor, Mr. Berkebile, keep the parking lot orderly and safe at all school activities.

Thomas Stanko, Ronald Ling, Stanley Kolesko, Charles Shaffer, Larry Green, Larry Boyer

The Audio-Visual Club, under the supervision of Mr. Zimmerman, assists at assemblies, in classrooms, and at meetings by operating movie projectors and tape recorders.

All these boys and advisors deserve much credit for their indispensable work "behind the scenes."

OUR ROYALTY

HOMECOMING QUEEN

For the first time, this year Forbes conducted a Homecoming Celebration. Selected to reign over the festivities was our Homecoming Queen, Judy Spangler. At the homecoming game, held October 31, parents of Senior band members, cheerleaders, and football players were honored.

BAND QUEEN

Our band again participated in the Christmas Parade sponsored by the merchants of Johnstown. The band chose Carol Whisker as Band Queen.

Earning the titles of Maroon and White Queen and King were Brenda Croyle and Bill Berkebile. Selected as Prince and Princess were Glenn Boyer and Linda Rodger. The candidates were judged at the Maroon and White Assembly and the royal couples were crowned at the Maroon and White Victory Dance held the following night.

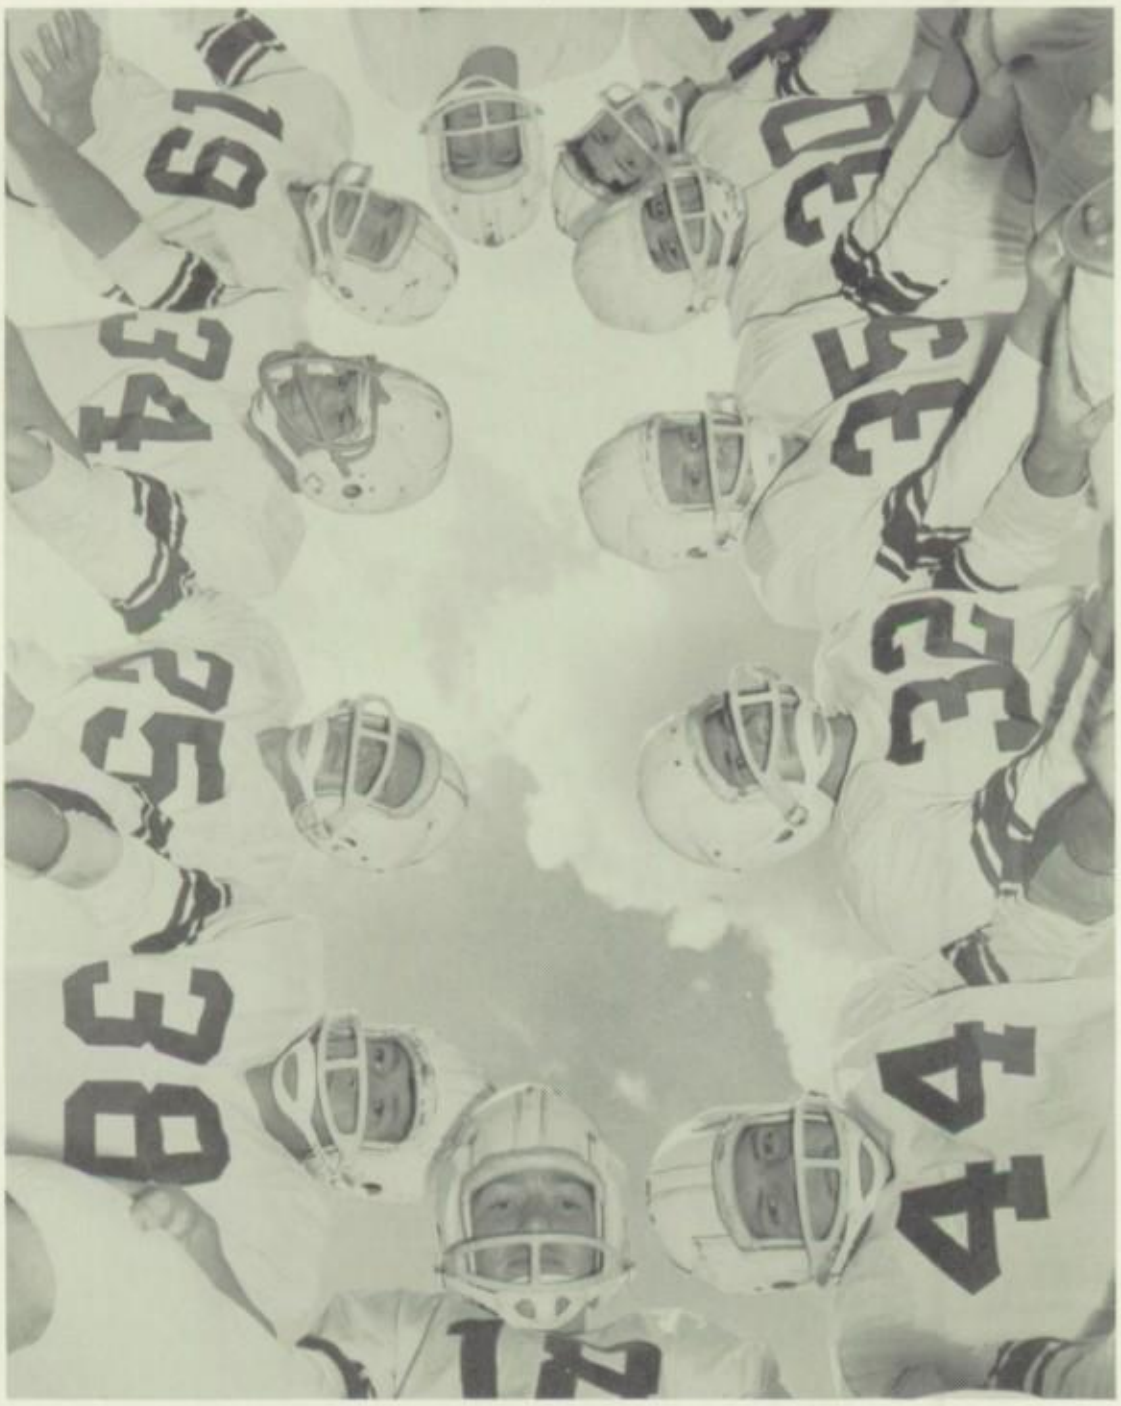
READY FOR ACTION



Danny Rice, Jerry Croyle, Robert Georg, David Watkins, Howard Peterman, Ronald Veres, Gregory Ott, Thomas McDowell, Larry Berkebile, Richard Ott, William Pringle

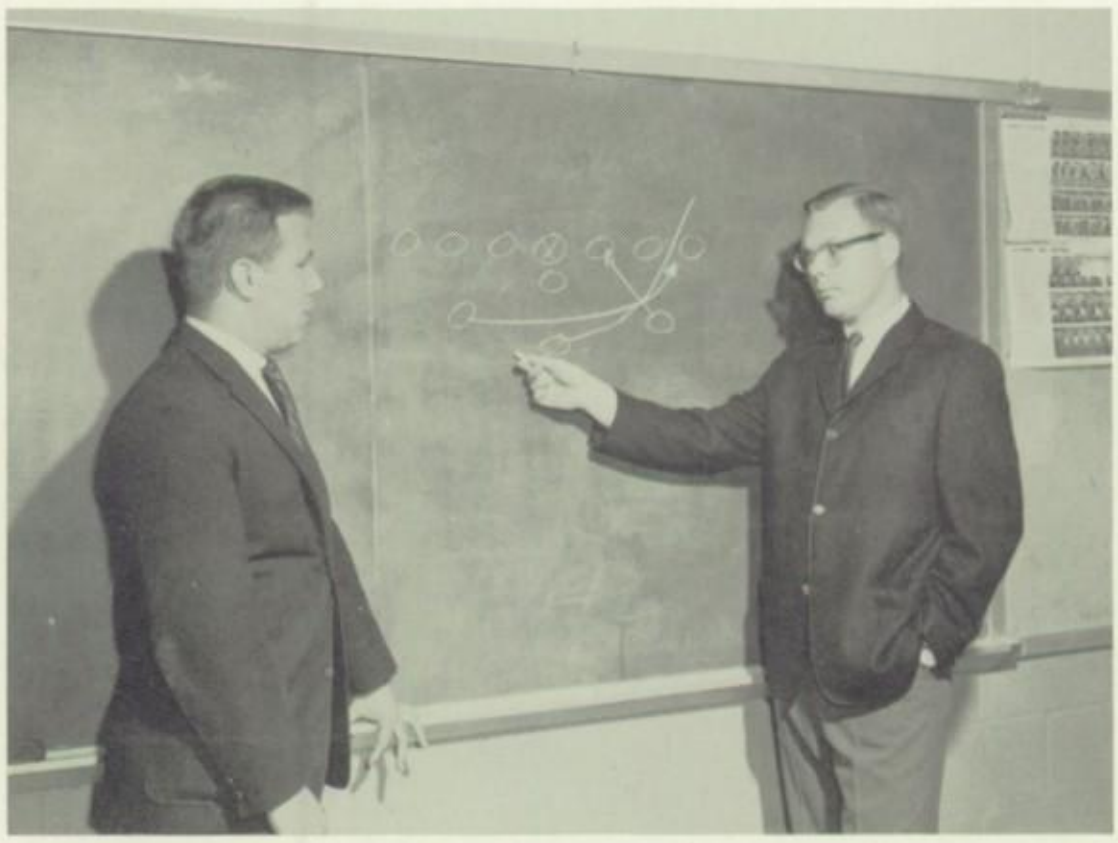
A powerhouse teamed with an untiring defense, gave the Jets a 5-2-1 mark, the first winning season since 1959. The record could easily have been 8-0 as we tied a hard-fought game with Boswell, lost an injury-hampered game to Berlin, and fumbled away an early 14-0 lead over Shade to a heart-breaking 24-14 loss.

The offensive line was certainly one of the largest and strongest ever seen on the playing field at Forbes, and the speedy backfield was as strong as any other that ever donned our maroon and white. Our defense, strongest in the county, held our opponents to only 57 points.

Next year's squad may try to repeat, or to better, this year's record, but it will have to be done without the aid of 8 seniors lost from this year's starting eleven. They are:

Ron (Jumbo) Veres; Captain, Tackle
Dan (Spider-legs) Rice; Co-captain, End
Greg (Babe) Ott; Quarterback
Dana (Hop-a-long) Keith; End
Van (Whitey) Watkins; Center
Terry (Snow White) Custer; Guard
Terry (Gunner) Wain; Halfback
Billy (Y. A. Turtle) Pringle; Halfback

"Yes sir Mr. Maize." This chorus could be heard during every practice session. Such respect taught on the practice field produced not only a winning season, but also a team respected for their type of playing by coaches, opponents, spectators, and referees. We wish Mr. Maize and Mr. Hutzell success in their future years at Forbes.



Larry Hutzell—David Maize

ATTENTION!

COMPONENTS OF TRIUMPH

Basketball Coaches: Jack Dickey, David Maize

By the coaching of Jack Dickey, the "Golden Jets" brought another victorious season to Forbes. Victories instead of defeats on two occasions, could have given the Jets the county title instead of second place standings. Six boys will be lost from the squad through graduation. Those boys are: Dan Rice, Bill Berkebile, Terry Metzgar, Billy Pringle, Greg Ott, and Ron Veres.

Mr. Dickey

Under the superb direction of Coach Dickey, the Jets in the spring of '64 produced another winning effort. The 4-3 record posted by last years squad marks Forbes' tenth winning season in the 10 years that baseball has been part of our athletic program. This, baseball's eleventh year at Forbes, should produce another fine season as Coach Dickey will use the seven returning monogram winners as the backbone of his team. Four of these letter winners—Greg Ott, Ron Veres, Billy Pringle, and Bryan Betts—are seniors and will be missed from next year's squad.

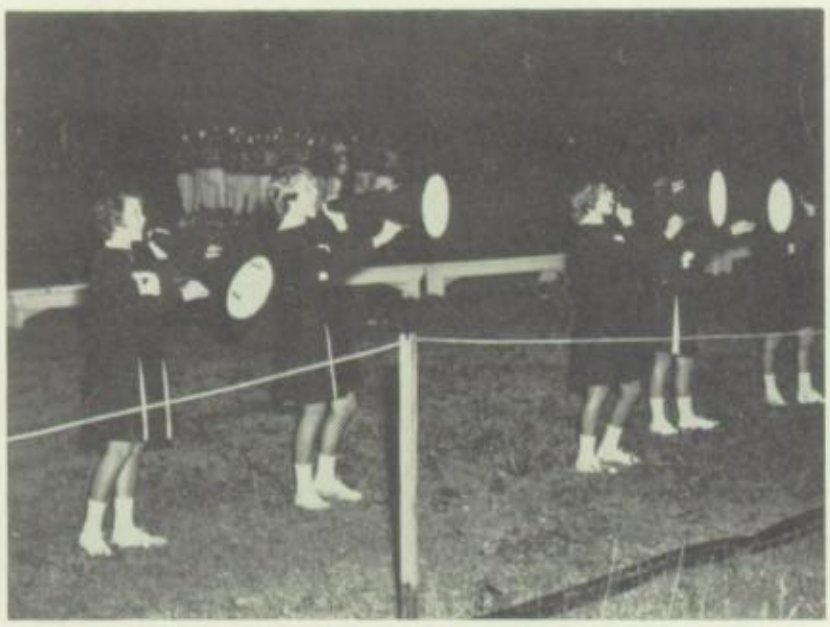
CHEERING THROUGH A WINNING YEAR

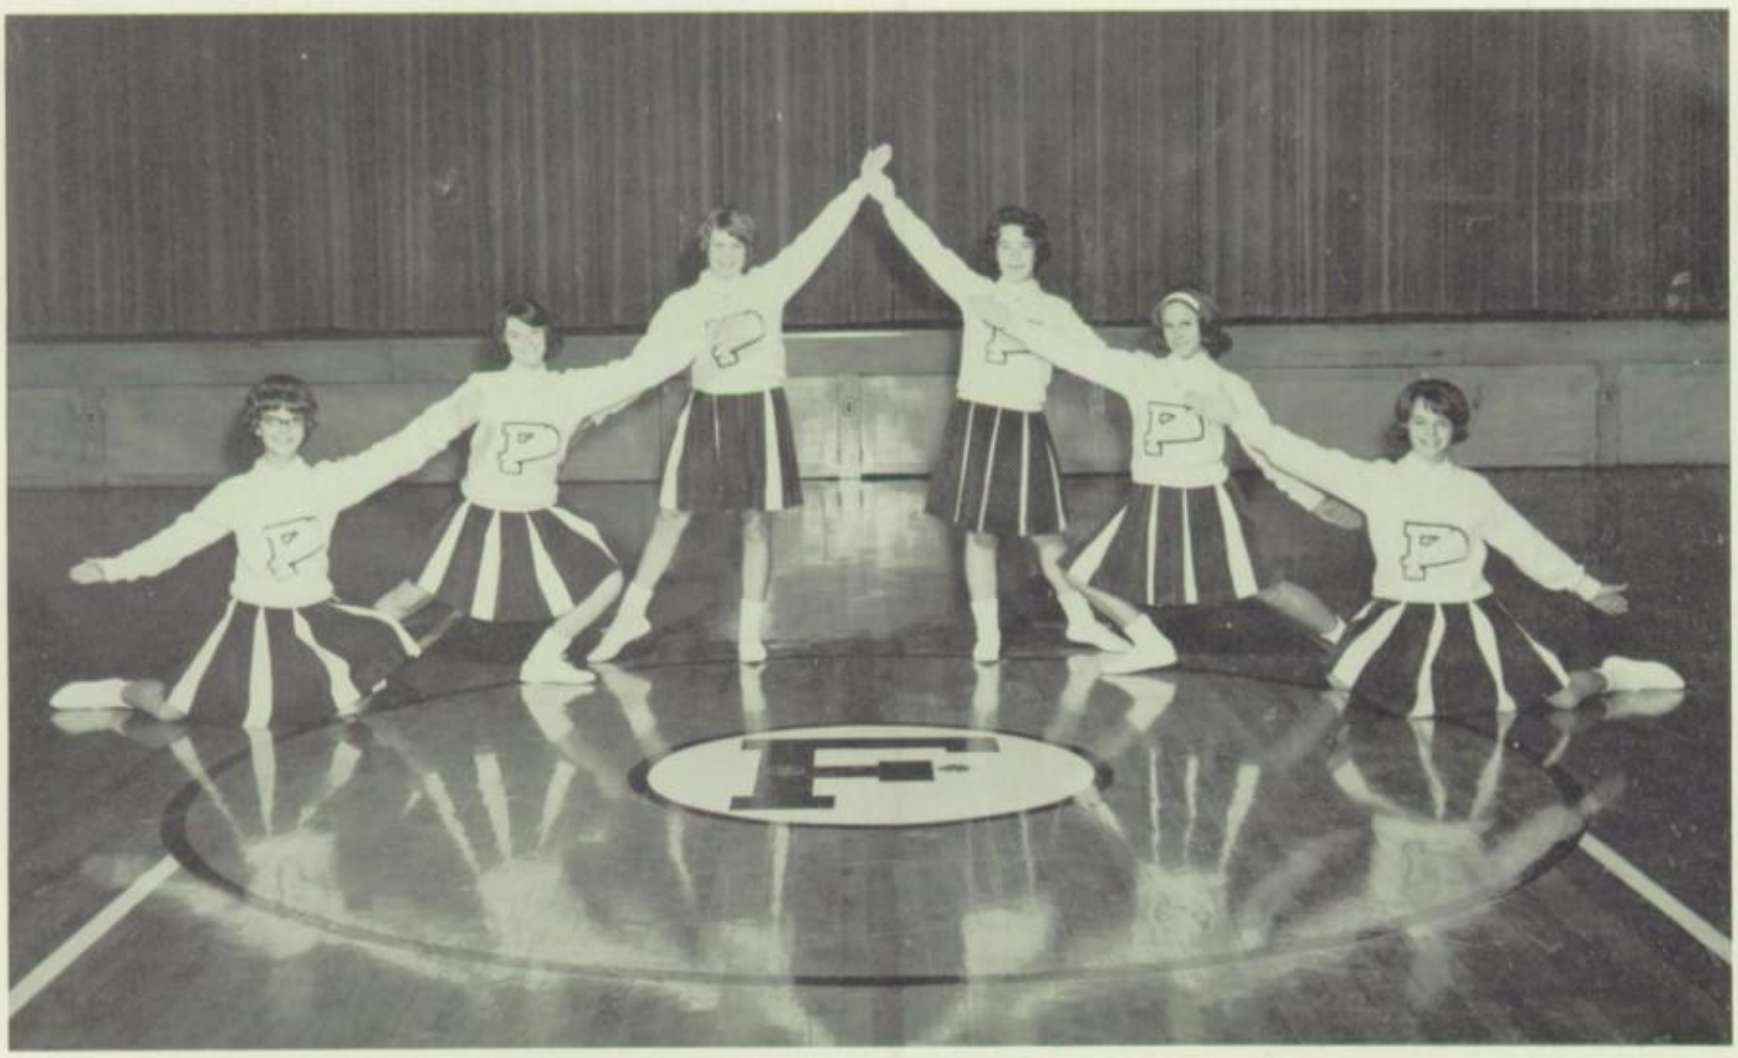
L to R: Judy Spangler, Nina Fish, Stacey Mong, Kathleen Russic, Margaret Lebda, Kay Bock

The lively enthusiasm of these vivacious girls mirrors the school spirit, which they generate. The clever cheers and peppy chants come only after hours of hard practice and concentration. They have done much to increase school spirit. Through their efforts Maroon and White Day was a huge success. A bonfire and Maroon and White Victory Dance, with unusually gay decoartions heightened the festivities.

ENTHUSIASM AND HARD WORK



Serving as advisor for the cheerleaders is Miss Phoebe Reighard. Miss Reighard merits acknowledgment for the many hours she has spent helping our cheerleaders prepare for games and the Cheerleading Contest.



Karen Kubek, Gayle Armagost, Marcia Berkey, Gloria Gastiger, Kathy Kimmel, Sheila Peterman

DRIBBLETTES

"Third time's the charm." This is the theme of the girls' basketball team as they go into their third year of this sport. The team, under the careful instruction of their coach, Miss Reighard, showed a definite improvement in their second year and are hoping for the same this season. The right attitude and determination mixed with large amounts of practice, good sportsmanship, togetherness, and support will combine to give the girls a winning recipe for success. However, whether they win or lose, the girls will agree that the time put into the team doubled itself in the enjoyment they received by playing.

And now in departure we leave a wealth of memories
behind us,
and carry a wealth of memories
with us.
We must go forward,
onward and upward,
building greatness for ourselves,
immortality for our generation,
and peace for our world.
